

Honesty

VALUES

Empathy

KINDNESS

Respect

Read the situations below and discuss:

1. What would you do?
2. Can you suggest a single term to describe your approach?
3. Role play (Optional)

There is a new student in your class. She sits still on her desk even during the break time. Nobody cares about her. She looks quiet and shy.

You: _____

You buy a sandwich and a drink from the canteen and go downstairs to reach the garden, a student hits you by accident and you drop your drink. It spills around.

You: _____

PEACE

VALUES

Justice

fairness

Responsibility

You have two close friends in the class. You usually get on well with each other. Sometimes you hang out after school and chit chat. On a similar day, you see Kate from your class at a cafe. Your friends don't like this and sit without greeting her. Kate notices this and looks sad.

You: _____

You find some money on the way to home. You look around but there's nobody.

You: _____

You vote for the class leader at the beginning of each academic year. But this year, class leader is chosen by your new teacher without an election.

You: _____

